

April Johnson, Board Member, Vice President of External Relations

Preferred Pronouns: she/her/hers

April currently serves as the Assistant Dean for Advancement and Communications for the UW School of Social Work. April has been with the University of Washington – in progressive fundraising roles – since 2005, working in UW Medicine and the College of Engineering before joining the School of Social Work in 2015. Before moving to Seattle, April worked in Portland, Oregon, with the William Temple House for four years in their development office.

April has a Masters in public affairs and administration from the UW Evans School of Public Policy and Governance and completed her bachelor's studies in communications and theology at Eastern University in Wayne, Pennsylvania.